

STEP BY STEP GUIDE FOR KRAKEN

Kraken.com is a cryptocurrency exchange. It's a secure, trustworthy crypto exchange platform, that allows trades between several FIAT currencies and crypto tokens. When compared to other exchanges, Kraken is one of the best choices for trustworthiness. Kraken has never been hacked due that it keeps most of its currency offline. It also offers users a two-factor authentication for their accounts.

SINCE KRAKEN IS NOT A WALLET, WE RECOMMEND TO USE IT FROM YOUR PREFERRED WALLET, WHERE WE HAVE DEPOSITED YOU TO TURN THE FUNDS IN ANY CURRENCY. FOR THAT REASON, WE ARE NOT INCLUDING THE GUIDE TO DEPOSIT FROM YOUR PREFERRED SPORTSBOOK TO YOUR WALLET. YOU CAN USE A DIFFERENT EXCHANGE WALLET SUCH AS COINBASE, CEX.IO AND BITSTAMP OR ANY OF THE AVAILABLE WITHDRAW OPTIONS.

Kraken is not a wallet:

They provide the customers the ability to deposit funds to their corporate hot and cold wallets for safekeeping while the funds are being exchanged or used for trading but do not provide a personal wallet service.

Kraken is not a bank:

Cryptocurrency exchanges do not qualify for deposit insurance programs for each of their clients because exchanges are not savings institutions. This means that the funds should only be sent to exchanges for exchanging or trading, not for saving.

Kraken is not a broker

In traditional financial exchanges, direct market access is restricted to a handful of institutions. As a result, mainstream clients need to use brokers to participate. At Kraken, we give direct market access to any verified client – making brokers obsolete, this means that:

- ◇ Their support team cannot manage (create, modify, or cancel) orders on the user's behalf. It is one of the ways they ensure client security.
- ◇ If someone claims to be a cryptocurrency broker, it's almost definitely a scam.

Kraken is not an investment fund or advisor

Listing a cryptocurrency on their exchange does not constitute an endorsement by Kraken, nor in any way a recommendation to buy (or sell) the asset or participate in the associated network.

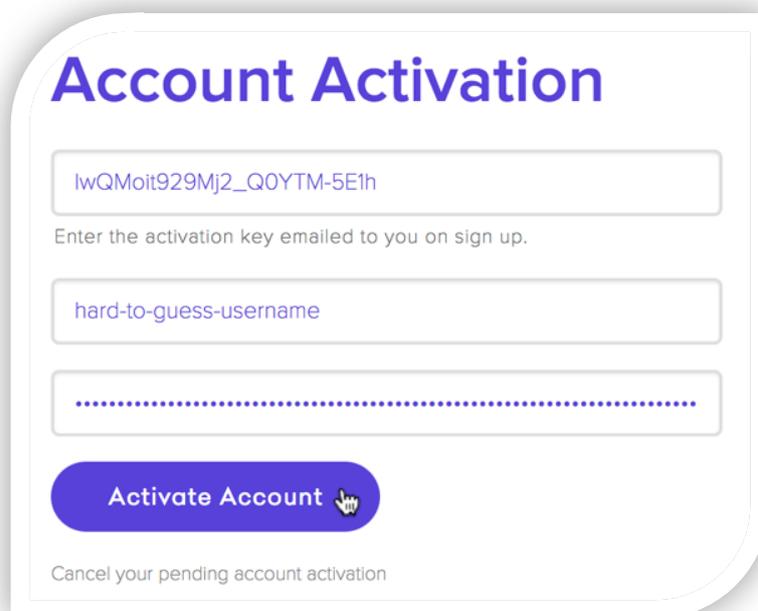

Kraken is not a shop

Kraken is not the one selling or buying cryptocurrencies from you as a user. This means that if by any chance a user messes up an order, they are not able to refund it and also, they have no control over the price.
